ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT
FOR THE AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

Welcome to PARTSLIFE

We would like to introduce ourselves, our company, our products and services. Where do we come from and what do we do.

PARTSLIFE was founded in 1995 as an industry solution in the automotive market “from the industry for the industry”. It was intended to prevent stricter legislation with regard to the disposal of workshop waste by imposing a voluntary self-commitment. We can now – also thanks to our loyal customers – look back on more than 20 successful years.

Today we advise our system partners competently in all matters concerning environmental protection, waste / packaging / energy management and health and safety issues.

Our system comprises more than 70 strong brands and more than 10,000 independent workshops. We rely on 31 shareholders and act responsibly on their behalf.

Have a look at our range of services, which provide fulfilment of legal requirements, cost efficiency and focus on environmental protection.

Our customers act nationally and globally and they rely on our know-how in all areas.

Use Environmental Management Systems to your Advantage

You can raise your reputation by showing your awareness of environmental responsibilities. By implementing an effective environmental management system you fulfil legal obligations and create public perception. An environment orientated company management also contributes to health and safety issues and the optimization of processes. An active environment management saves resources, avoids waste, reduces purchasing and energy costs and increases the quality of products and services. At the same time you improve the corporate image and turn environmental protection into a competitive advantage.

PARTSLIFE works on the basis of the international environmental standard ISO 14.001 and the EU eco audit regulation EMAS. We support your company during the implementation of an environmental management system all the way to certification.
